Serafina and the Black Cloak

C.A.R. CHART

CONFLICT → ACTION → RESOLUTION

CONFLICT #1

CONFLICT #2

MAIN ACTION

RESOLUTION

The Importance of C.A.R.: Nearly all stories involve a structure called C.A.R., which stands for Conflict, Action, and Resolution. The Conflict is a problem, mystery, or issue. The Action is the dialogue, physical action, and other activity that takes place related to the Conflict. The Resolution is how the problem is solved in the end. When creating your own stories it is often useful to think in those terms. What is the conflict of the story? What happens in the middle of the story (the action)? How is the conflict eventually resolved? As a first assignment, use this C.A.R. Chart to diagram the Conflict, Action, and Resolution for Serafina and the Black Cloak. Then do it again for a different story or movie. Finally, you could try creating your own story, with its own C.A.R. Note: If you find that your story is missing any of these elements, it probably won't make a very satisfying story for the reader.
